Register Now for the National ARCSA Conference in Austin, Texas

ARCSA will hold its 2010 National Conference and Membership Meeting in Austin, Texas this October. The conference will be held at the AT&T Executive Education and Conference Center which is located in the heart of Austin and was selected due to its convenient location in downtown Austin and its green programs. The conference will take place Monday, October 4 through Wednesday, October 6. The conference program will feature over 30 recognized water conservation leaders and rainwater harvesting experts from around the world. Keynotes for the conference will include: Dr. Robert Glennon, author of "Unquenchable"; Texas Representative Patrick Rose and Vessela Monta, Executive Director of International Rainwater Harvesting Alliance headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland.

In addition to the large number of speakers, rainwater vendors from around the world will be exhibiting their latest products. Additionally, there will be multiple tour options available to attendees, showing rainwater harvesting in Austin. Registration for the conference is available now for vendors and individuals. Register early and save!!
